THE TARIFF CRISIS.

Senator Gorman labors under a disadvantage in the assault he has though proper to make on President Cleveland The people know that the President is right, and that all he says is truth. The know that Senator Gorman is wrong. that his action and that of his few nonnelates cannot be justified, that it is in direct conflict with the principles of the Virgin Mary. Democracy, the rules of political orcountry.

Senator Gorman's speech, while President for some supposed duplicity practised towards the Senators in regard excuse or to justify the obstructive

Democratic party on the tariff question.

Taking advantage of the Democratic necessity, three Senators combine to protect their own special interests. To accomplish this they reverse the principle of tariff reform to which the Democraty is pledged, change the character of the Tariff bill as it came from the House, and then declare that the bill as they have transformed it must be accepted as a Democratic Tariff bill or the country must remain under McKinley protection for corporations, trusts and monopolles.

Once again Vigilant has fallen a victim to the uncertainty of English weather. Once again she has romped away from the English Britannia while a fair wind was blowing, and once again she has been left behind at the finish through becoming becaimed in the last "leg" of a race. Yesterday's race was at Queenstown, for the Royal Munster Yacht Club's Cup, and the story is told in a few words—"Everywhere it is admitted that Vigilant showed herself far away the superior of Britannia in this day's racing," but "a fluke gave Britannia the victory."

Bananas which are perfectly full will ripen mellow and delicious but those cut when immature, as too many are, will turn yellow, yet never truly ripen, retaining always their hard texture and unripe taste. In Jamaica, as elsewhere, the competition of buyers leads the unscrupulous ones to accept fruit of any sort, even when totally unfit, and this sort of competition makes all the more unavailing the efforts of honest buyers to raise the standard and to teach the people to withhold the fruit until it is properly developed. Americans can give more moral support to these honest efforts at any price. A little pains will soon one to distinguish good from poor fruit, though it is difficult to give general statement of the distinctive differences. But as a rule it will be found that bananas which are largest, deepest yellow and least angular are the most mature and best.
